

SAIF Hidden Accessibility

Sources of Further Information

General accessibility information

SAIF Scotland Website: www.saifscotland.org.uk

Using Styles and Converting to PDFs

www.adobe.com/accessibility/products/acrobat/training.html Tutorial on writing accessible Word documents and converting them to Accessible PDFs.

www.techdis.ac.uk/accessibilityessentials Tutorials on all aspects of producing accessible documents.

www.youtube.com - search “rscnescotland styles” for video tutorials

Delivering Technically Accessible documents: the essentials you need to know. (Office for Disability Issues, 2010). Download from:

www.officefordisability.gov.uk/common/publications-index.php

Click “Help” and then Accessibility in Microsoft Office Word. Scroll down to Creating Accessible Word Documents. (Microsoft Office help has guidance on accessibility for all its applications.)

Website Accessibility

www.abilitynet.org.uk/athome_factsheets click on Free Web Accessibility Resources <http://www.visionaustralia.org.au/ais/toolbar> Download and install this toolbar in your web browser. It is a useful way of having a number of different accessibility checking tools in one place.

Web 2 and Social Media

www.practicalecommerce.com/articles/1581-Accessibility-and-Social-Media

www.ichubknowledgebase.org.uk/web20andaccessibility

Emailing Good Practice

Use these guidelines for writing HTML emails – www.w3.org/WAI

Use this information for writing plain text emails - www.headstar.com/ten

Making Sense of HTML Message in Outlook 2007 – search Outlook Help to find this article.